

Highlights

- A causal benchmark compares four SOC estimators on cell-disjoint LFP data.
- Accuracy, robustness, recovery, and embedded cost are evaluated jointly.
- The data-driven estimator gives the lowest nominal error and strong robustness.
- The ECM observer provides the strongest initialization recovery.
- All SOC cores meet the one-second STM32 deadline within available memory.